International Human Solidarity Day - December 20

✓ What is International Human Solidarity Day?

Convinced that a culture of solidarity and a spirit of sharing was important for combating poverty and delivering the eight Millennium Development Goals, the UN General Assembly proclaimed 20 December as International Human Solidarity Day.

✓ It is:

➢ A day to celebrate our unity in diversity;

➢ A day to remind governments to respect their commitments to international agreements;

➢ A day to raise public awareness of the importance of solidarity;

"ALONE WE CAN DO SO LITTLE; TOGETHER WE CAN DO SO MUCH."
– Helen Keller

➢ A day to encourage debate on the ways to promote solidarity for the achievement of the Sustainable Development Goals including poverty eradication;

➢ A day of action to encourage new initiatives for poverty eradication.

What Do People Do?

- Activities may include promoting campaigns on issues such as:
- Banning land mines.
- Making health and medication accessible to those in need.
- Relief efforts to help those who suffered the effects of natural or human-made disasters.
- Achieving universal education.
- Fighting against poverty, corruption and terrorism
